

During the 2006-2007 school year, how often did YOU

Group and instruct students of similar levels

Assign worksheets aligned to daily lesson

Review data related to grade level indicators

Regroup students after assessment

Meet with individual students about their progress toward benchmarks

Lecture

If you would like to see the entire survey and the results of it, simply email me and I would be happy to share it with you.

Students will also be asked to complete surveys regarding their own school experiences. These will be completed during school so that we may and perceptions. If you are a parent of a student currently attending New Riegel you will also be asked to complete a survey. We will be sending youngest student in each family within the next week, so please watch for it.

Why are we doing this? It is important for our school to have goals. In order to set goals we must know what we are doing well and what we need multitude of facts and figures with regard to achievement and standardized testing, but we also need to gather other information such as:

Demographics: which describe the students, staff, the school, and the community

Perceptions: which help us understand what students, parents, teachers and the community think about the learning environment

School processes: which highlight school programs, instructional strategies, assessment strategies, and classroom practices and

Student learning: which includes a variety of measurements that show the impact of the education system on students

By using this information we hope to make the school experience better for everyone involved.

Excellent season. A great job goes out to Mr. Bounion and the runners on the boys JH CC team. We look for many great years at New Riegel.

As our fall sports seasons are winding down, please keep in mind eligibility for winter sports. A student's 1st quarter grades will determine winter sports eligibility.

Our teachers have been involved this year in a new process of evaluating the Ohio Achievement and Graduation tests. This analysis on the OAT and OGT in order to pin point deficiencies in the assessments given to their students. This will be an effort to drive instruction in areas that need further attention.

The fall in-service was given on October 15. The in-service focused on professional development in three areas. Teachers learned about Mimio technology, and non-fiction strategies in the classroom. Web design, provided by a grant for NWOET, taught teachers to use in their classes. MT Business provided the Mimio technology workshop where teachers were shown the uses of this latest technology here at New Riegel already have been using this technology to enhance student learning. Non-fiction Strategies workshop where the workshop provided teachers with new classroom strategies.

I look forward to seeing everyone at the fall conferences on November 1st and 8th. Remember, grades K-8 need to schedule in the office and grades 9-12 are a first come first serve bases. Both nights will run from 4:30 – 7:00 p.m.

As always, if you have any questions or concerns please feel free to contact me via email at drombach@new-riegel.k12.oh.us x1143.

Elementary Happenings.....

On October 4th and October 5th, the Kindergarten classes enjoyed a field trip to Conine's Apple Orchard and Pumpkin Patch! Taking a hayride out to the pumpkin patch, feeding the horses apples, and collecting the biggest pumpkins they could possibly carry were a few of the highlights!! They also hand-picked apples for making applesauce with the FCCLA students. The blue class watched Mr. Conine press apple cider, and we all got to have a taste-yum, yum!!

The third graders had the opportunity presentation. Brenda Engle and Kay Barbour Sesame Street like show. Each of the puppets were there to show the kids what each disability included Cerebral Palsy, Blindness, Mental Learning Disabilities, and Deafness. The goal the children tolerance for kids who are different these different disabilities if they meet kids loved it and even got to ask the puppets information on this show or some supplemental please contact Mrs. Ink or Miss Brickner.

First Grade Field Trip

On October 11th Mrs. Hessick's and Mrs. Shinew's first graders had an interesting and fun field trip to the Historic They learned about the past as they toured a recreated village containing restored 19th century buildings. They began their tour into smaller groups for the other buildings. In the log home some of them saw how the people back then wrote with a quill, that by ropes, that the mattresses were stuffed with corn husks and that another one stuffed with feathers was placed on top to m barn they were shown brooms that were made in that time period. In the hardware store each student had a turn to use the old-fashioned washer. They learned that a child could spend all of one day doing the laundry! Some seemed to think that school the students had a chance to relive the past by writing their assignment on mini chalkboards, eating lunch in their cla apple" game. In touring the general store, the students learned that it was important to have things like eggs to use for barte fascinated by the 1880 mansion. Although it did not have the conveniences of today, it was very beautiful and had luxuries t not have! We will be reflecting back on this trip as we study about the past and the present in November and December.

On game night, many fans crowded the stands wearing pink to support the event. Posters, streamers and balloons decorated the school. The event was held several different raffles. Two ladies from each team made a dash for cash through the crowd. There was a serving contest and a talent performance. It was a night everyone will remember. New Riegel and Old Fort schools raised around $2,500 for Susan G. Komen.

We would like to extend a special thank you to the generous businesses who sponsored the event: New Riegel Athletic Boosters, Financial Design Property and Casualty, Riverside Engine, Hohman's Accounting and Tax Service, Strategic Investment Advisors, N Processing, Suzette & Edward Clouse, Clouse's Service Center, New Riegel Elevator, Farmland Foods Inc., Mathias Trucking Inc., American Legion in New Riegel, Fostoria Community Hospital, All Saints Parish CYO, NR National Honor Society, and the Old Fort.

A final big thank you for the support of our school administration, our faculty, and the communities of New Riegel and Old Fort. We couldn't have done this without you!
